INTRODUCTION

The Institute of Architects, Pakistan (IAP) was established in 1957 by a small group of architects who had been trained in the west and had worked for the government or were in practice. IAP was formally registered in 1968 under the Societies Act, and subsequently registered in 1988 under the Companies Ordinance, with the Government and High Court Commission of Enquiry (IAP) with the following objectives:

1. To regulate the profession of architecture in Pakistan and to look after professional interests as well as those of the public in general connected with the building profession.

2. To promote the cause of Architecture in Pakistan and to take up all matters relating to the education of architects (including the research).

3. To conduct a series of studies and campaigns among practicing architects and for this purpose to present the papers of a national Symposium for an international conference.

4. To establish contact with other national and international professional bodies of architects and to cooperate with them.

5. To conduct research and organize seminars, conferences and exhibitions for promoting the interest of the architectural profession.

Over the years IAP has made the establishment of the first school of architecture in Karachi in 1963, which was subsequently registered in the year 1969, a major programme. Similarly IAP has been instrumental in setting up and running one of the architectural schools in the country, apart from the support of the full time who are an essential IAP, along members of architecture and IAP are associated with schools in visiting professors, fellowships and grants.

Through the concerted efforts and leadership of IAP the profession of architecture and the building industry in Pakistan has been transformed into a modern and progressive one with the confidence of the regulatory agencies.

6. To protect the interests of Architects in their Professions (IAP) in 1981 (INDIA) AND IN 1982 (AFGHANISTAN) IAP IS INVOLVED TO HAVE A MEMBER OF THE BUILDING MATERIALS ALONG WITH THE ARCHITECTS.
