

Intended Audience

MS (English Language and Literature Students)

Semester 1 and 2

Faculty of Humanities

Seminar Room

A-Block

Thursday, April 18, 2019

Time: 2:30pm-5:30pm

SEMINAR ON LANGUAGE PHILOSOPHY OF MIKHAIL BAKHTIN
GUEST SPEAKER: DR. SYRRINA AHSAN ALI HAQUE

Department of Humanities feels great pleasure to invite Dr. Syrrina Ahsan Ali Haque (Department of English in Lahore School of Economics). She is a highly acclaimed professional educationist and academician with book such as 'Sand in the Castle: A Collection of Short Stories' to her name. She has remarkable national and international records in literary research. With her enthusiasm to inculcate the motivation for greater accessibility of knowledge, research and exploration within the student body and with her expansive outlook towards art, literature and life at large, Dr. Syrrina will talk about language philosophy of Bakhtin and his concept of Dialogism. Literary Philosophy of Bakhtin is a core part of MS English Language and Literature and therefore, this seminar will reflect fruitful outcomes for both MS (literature and language) students, to learn and stretch their literary theoretical boundaries.

ORGANIZER
MS. SARA KHAN
LECTURER
HUMANITIES