

Abstract: The relation between normalized thermal energy and conductivity, with no particle sources in cylindrical tokamak geometry has been derived. It is obtained, $\beta_p = \frac{\sigma_{\perp}}{\sigma_{\parallel}}$. This relationship is of importance for tokamak confinement and heating.